Paddy sowing lags behind in UP due to deficient rain

Only 2 out of 75 districts have got adequate rain

DEEPA JAINANI & SANDIP DAS
Lucknow/New Delhi, July 20

PADDY SOWING IN Uttar Pradesh, the second biggest producer of rice in the country, has been lagging last year's level because of deficient monsoon rains so far.

The situation is expected to worsen if the state does not get adequate rainfall in the next couple of weeks.

According to state government data, paddy has been sown in 2.7 million hectare (MH) so far which is around 23% less than a year ago. The Uttar Pradesh government had earlier set a target of 5.9 MH for paddy sowing for the season. Of the 75 districts in Uttar Pradesh, only Firozabad and Agra have received adequate monsoon rainfall, while in all the remaining districts paddy transplantation has been delayed because of deficiency in rainfall. "It's getting late for paddy sowing and nurseries have matured beyond their stipulated time. Usually, nurseries are transplanted in 20 days but now they are almost a month old," Rajesh Kumar Gupta, director of statistics, department of agriculture, Uttar Pradesh told FE.Gupta

■ Only 2 districts out of 75 have so far received adequate rainfall

■ IMD predicts rainfalls over northern regions over the next three days also said that while farmers in the western part of the state are equipped with irrigation facilities, the situation is challenging in the eastern region. Uttar Pradesh, the second biggest producer of rice, has a share of around 13% in the country's rice production of 122.27 million tonne (MT) in 2020-21 crop year (July-June). Amidst concerns that a deficient monsoon will adversely affect the kharif crops, especially paddy, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath on Tuesday reviewed the situation with the senior officials for preparation of contingency plan. Uttar Pradesh has received only 81.8 mm rainfall till Monday, which is about 68% less than the normal benchmark of 258 mm.

According to agriculture ministry data till July 15, 2022, kharif crops including paddy, pulses, oilseeds, coarse cereals, sugarcane and cotton were sown in 59.21 MH, marginally higher than corresponding period last year. However, the sown area of paddy at 12.8 MH is still 17% less than year ago. The slow progress of sowing in Uttar Pradesh is the key factor behind less sowing of staple grain across the country. According to an agriculture ministry official, windows for paddy transplanting exist till early August. The India Meteorological Department (IMD) on Wednesday predicted enhanced rainfall activity over northwest India, north-eastern states and West Bengal during the next three days. Met department officials said that Uttar Pradesh is expected to get monsoon rains over the next three days.

The cumulative rainfall across the country received during June 1-July 20 was 380 mm, which was 11% more than the normal benchmark of 342 mm for the same period. Central India and the south peninsula have received 30% and 34% more rainfall respectively than the normal range so far.

The rainfall deficiency in northwest India and east and north east regions has been 9% and 14% respectively.

The met department had stated that cumulative rainfall during July 2022 is most likely to be in the normal range - 94% to 106% of benchmark long period average (LPA).

In April, 2022, the government had set a record food-grain production target of 328 MT in the 2022-23 crop year (July-June) against 314 MT of production in 2021-22, as per the third advance estimate of foodgrain output.

Insurers free to empanel hospitals for cashless treatment

FE BUREAU
Kolkata, July 20

INSURANCE REGULATOR IRDAI on Wednesday empowered insurers to empanel hospitals or healthcare providers, which meet the standards and benchmarks criteria as specified by their respective boards, for enhancing the scope for offering cashless facilities.

The regulator in a circular said while empanelling network providers for cashless facility, insurance companies are advised to focus on the delivery of quality healthcare services. Boards of insurance companies will, among others, consider especially the minimum manpower and healthcare infrastructure facilities.

"These instructions shall come into force with immediate effect," Irdaai said. In partial modification of earlier guidelines, insurers are now empowered to empanel the network providers that meet the standards and benchmarks criteria as specified by their respective boards, Irdaai said.

"After Covid-19, several improvements have taken place in the healthcare industry... This regulatory initiative would increase the scope of insurers' cashless services which would play a pivotal role in reducing the financial burden on policyholders. This will also provide a strong network of healthcare plus insurance services countrywide," said Sharad Mathur, MD & CEO, Universal Sampo General Insurance.

Drought-resistant rice to be available for farming by 2026

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, July 20

A DROUGHT-RESISTANT rice variety developed through application of genome-edited technology for the first time in the country, is expected to be available for field evaluation by kharif 2024 and for commercial cultivation by farmers by 2026, agriculture minister Narendra Singh Tomar has said.

The environment ministry and Department of Biotechnology (DBT) have given the sanctions for the field evaluation of genome-edited rice variety during the kharif 2024 season to Indian Agricultural Research Institute, Delhi, Tomar stated in a written reply to Lok Sabha on Tuesday.

The research work is carried out with the approval of institutional biosafety committee constituted by DBT under Environment Protection Act, 1986.

"New variety of rice is expected to improve water use efficiency in paddy cultivation and help farmers in taking up the crops despite rainfall deficiency," KC Bansal, secretary, National Academy of Agricultural Sciences, told FE. This is expected to be the first variety of agricultural crop developed using genome-edited technology to go for commercial release in the next four years in the country.

The government in March had exempted certain types of genome-edited crops from the stringent bio-safety regulations applicable to genetically-modified (GM) crops to ensure wider use of this technology and accelerate genetic improvement of crops in the country.

There are several crops being developed through using genome-edited technology that are in the pipeline for field trial.

The environment ministry, in a notification had exempted site directed nuclease (SDN) 1 and 2 genomes from Rules 7-11 of the Environment Protection Act, thus allowing it to avoid a long process for approval of GM crops through the Genetic Engineering Appraisal Committee (GEAC).

Scientists associated with the Indian Council for Agricultural Research said the technology has great promise. Scientists say that genome-edited plants are different from genetically-modified organisms (GMO) technology. Genome editing is a group of technologies that gives scientists the ability to change an organism's DNA.

The US and China are leaders in usage of this technology for developing crop varieties like rice, maize, soybean, canola and tomato which withstand biotic and abiotic stresses arising out of climate change.

IPL team owners score a 'six' in SA's T20 league

MANY, HOWEVER, say IPL still remains a pygmy compared to other majors sports leagues. The league comprises 10 teams, playing a total of 74 matches. In the UK, Premier League football - to which IPL owners often compare the league - has 20 teams playing a total of 380 games. Compared to even the other leading global leagues it aspires to, it is far smaller in all aspects, including commercial value. But it may be too harsh a judgement as IPL is still much younger and needs a few more years to blossom.

The new league will be run by Cricket South Africa in partnership with television broadcaster SuperSport. The new T20 league is CSA's third attempt at organising a sustainable franchise-based T20 league, following the failures of the Global League T20 and Mzansi Super League.

This is by no means the first global foray for IPL franchisees. KKR had made the first "global" move about seven years ago when it became owner of the Trinbago Knight Riders (TKR) in the Caribbean Premier League (CPL) in 2015. Since then, RR and Punjab Kings have also bought franchises in the CPL. Knight Riders Group has also made a significant investment in Major League Cricket (MLC) in the US and had announced plans to set up a franchise in the greater Los Angeles area.

Govt slashes windfall tax

MORGAN STANLEY said the unwinding of the windfall tax came a little quicker than estimated; Jeffries too was "surprised" with the overnight move.

On July 1, when the new taxes kicked in, Brent crude prices were ruling at $111.63/barrel and prices have since moderated to $105.75 on Wednesday.

"The windfall tax was imposed as a specific amount, not as a percentage. The taxes were fixed keeping in mind a band for crude prices. Since prices have moved out of the band, a change in taxes were necessary," an official said.

The new taxes are being reviewed every 15 days following in the rupee-US dollar exchange rate, global crude prices and the domestic cost of crude.

"When crude prices come down to a level which is not very unusual, the taxes may be withdrawn. If global crude is $75/barrel, firms may not have windfall gains," another official said.

On May 21, the government cut excise duty on petrol by ₹8/litre to ₹19.1/litre and that on diesel by ₹6/litre to ₹15.8/litre to give relief to consumers, a move that would cost the exchequer about ₹85,000 crore in FY23.

Vandana Hari, founder & CEO of Vanda Insights, a provider of global oil markets macro-analysis, said, "Exactly what calculations guided the government's decision to eliminate the export tax on petrol while trimming the taxes on diesel and jet fuel is hard to say, but the elimination or reduction of the windfall taxes on product exports makes sense, given the sharp drop in refining margins this month."

She said the supply situations with regard to petrol and diesel in the domestic market may also have been a factor, as one of the aims of the new taxes was to encourage the private refiners to supply enough fuel at home. While all major products have seen an erosion in refining margins, diesel and jet fuel are still enjoying better profits relative to petrol. That could have been an input into the decision.

Hetal Gandhi, director, Crisil, said the government's move to eliminate taxes on petrol exports may have come from its stagnant sales, both within and to the export markets. While reduction in taxes on diesel seems to be stemmed from its higher demand from the domestic as well as export markets. "Moreover, export spread for petrol has come down more sharply than diesel in recent times," she said.

The government had on July 1 levied a ₹23,250 per tonne cess on domestically produced crude. It also imposed ₹6 a litre ($12/bbl) on exports of petrol and aviation fuel and ₹13 a litre ($26/bbl) for diesel to arrest the tendencies of the private retailers to dock products overseas depriving the domestic market.

The benchmark Brent crude was traded at $107 a barrel on Wednesday, just $5/barrel lower than the July 1 level leading to a fall in domestic refining margins. On July 13, CLSA estimated the $12/bbl windfall tax on petrol took the realised refining spread down to a near loss-making level of just $2/bbl. Similarly, the diesel spread after the export tax of $26/bbl would be a meagre $2/bbl, it had said.

Oil stocks surge, RIL biggest beneficiary

FOR STATE-RUN oil marketing companies such as Indian Oil Corporation (IOC) and Bharat Petroleum Corporation (BPCL), the move to eliminate export tax on petrol from ₹6 a litre imposed on July 1 and prune taxes on shipment of diesel and aviation fuel by ₹2/litre each, will be negative as the move reduces the possibility of any direct subsidy from the government to compensate them for their retail losses, analysts said. The OMC stocks remained flat on Wednesday.

Reacting to the development, Jeffries said RIL will be the key beneficiary of the move as it would lower the impact on its realised gross refining margin (GRM) to around $ 1/bbl compared with US$ 7-9/bbl when the duty was first levied on July 1. Citi also pegged the post-reduction realised GRM at the same level.

Jeffries said, "Given that >90% of RIL's exports via the SEZ unit, the exemption effectively lowers the impact of export duty on its realised GRM to ~US$ 1/bbl. This too, in our view, could be mitigated as the residual export volumes could now likely be placed in the domestic markets. In our view, this negates the regulatory overhang on RIL from the July 1 move."

In a note, Citi said, "The reduction in windfall tax and exemption for SEZ units is in line with our expectations but is nevertheless a significant relief. We estimate the GRM impact for RIL could now decline to <$1/bbl vs. a potential $9-10/bbl impact earlier. While regional refining margins have fallen significantly since the windfall taxes were imposed, the latest development should preclude risks of earnings downgrades which had suddenly started looking quite real."

NCLT declares Future Retail bankrupt

THE BENCH, comprising Shyam Babu Gantam (member technical) and PN Deshmukh (member judicial), also directed the financial creditor (BoI) to pay remuneration and RP's expenses until the constitution of the committee of creditors.

The bench also prohibited institution of suits or continuation of pending suits or proceedings against FRL and also prevented it from alienating or disposing of any assets.

FRL's lenders had earlier selected Deloitte India-backed Vijay Kumar Iyer as the RP for the bankruptcy proceedings, which was opposed by FRL, citing "conflict of interest".

According to FRL, the proposed RP is also an auditor for other Future Group companies.

However, the BoI counsel had termed FRL's objections against the RP as "misplaced and based on incorrect information". The firm Deloitte India Insolvency Professionals (DIIP) is separate and different from the auditor firm Deloitte Haskins and Sells (DHS). The RP, who is a partner of DIIP, has not been a partner of DHS for the last 10 years and there are no common partners between these two entities. DHS had not audited FRL in the past 10 years, BoI counsel had informed the tribunal earlier.

On April 28, 2022, BoI had filed a petition seeking to initiate Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP) against FRL for defaulting ₹856.10 crore as of December 31, 2021.
